CAN JACK DILLON

REPEAT HISTORY. One of the Sensations in the Ring -Moran a Good Man.

haired Phisburgh heavyweight meets Jack Dillon, of Indianapells, over the ten round faute in the ring of the Washington Park Sports club on June 29th, in Brooklyn, American fistic history is apt to have a decided revival. Dillon is a pigmy in comparison with Moran. The latter will enjoy 35 pounds advantage in weight and 5 1-2 inches in height, practically the same handicap which faced Moran when he met Willard. Dillon is 5 feet 7 1- Zinches fall and weighs in condition, about 167 pounds, while Moran has 6 feet 1 inch of height and scales 200 pounds. The former is 25 years old and the latter confesses to 29 years. Dillon has gained the sobriquets of the Rib Breaker and the Glant Killer. He has never been knocked out. In fact, few men have ever knocked him off his feet. He has been rated as a ring wonder. We all know the class of Moran. He was nominated as the best man to Willard by American sports, and the result of their bout is now history. But with Dillon, he faces a different kind of opponent. Dillon is in a class by himself. June 29th, in Brooklyn, American fis-self.

Now, can Dillon repeat ring history? Turn over the pages of records to February 35, 1906, and you will find Joe Wolcott, age 28, 5 feet 11 1-2 inches in height, weight 147 pounds, beat Joe Choynski, age 32, 5 feet, 1 1-2 inches tall, weight 170 pounds in seven rounds. It was one of the most sensational contests in ring history. Wolcott just waded into the Californian's body and in less than three rounds he had brought that 5 feet 11 3-4 inches in height, down to five feet. 3-4 inches in height, down to five feet 1 1-2 inches. The 10 1-4 inches han-dicap in height, and the 23 pounds in Can Dillon emulate Wolcott? His admirers say yes. Moran and his followers say the Pitteburg heavyweight will joit him into a state of insensibility.

At a meeting held this afternoon between the Yale and Harvard university crew representatives and the referee of the races it was unanimously decided that owing to a possibility of a postponement of the morning races and the danger of a further postponement until Saturday and in view of the fact that certain members of the crews must report for military service not later than Friday night, the hours for rowing the morning races should be changed and the freshman race be rowed at $3.0 o'clock downstream on the lower two miles and the second varsity at 10 o'clock over the same course. front like a flash. The fistic fans desire real results with a knockout or a decisive wictory, no draws.

There has of late been far too much pussey-footing within the ropes, in this age of draws and no-decisions.

The greatest handrap in boxing at present is the rule against ring verdicts, enforced by the many commissions that control the sport in the various states of the Union. This silly, lilogical rule has done more to destrict the manily art, and encourage faking and stalling, than any other law enacted by the powers that control the puglistic game.

It has made boxing a perfect farce and burlesque in this land of the free and burlesque in this land of the free and the home of the brave. The followers of fistania in England, Australia, France and other countries are simply laughing at our foolish, ridiculous, no-decision methods.

Every honest lover of the manly art want just, competent verdicts, without any more parley, ballyhooling and milk and water arguments. It's high time for the boxing commissions to wake up and revoke their very objectionable no-decision rule.

We have only to look over the battling records of such fistic idols as John L. Sullivan, Bob Pitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries, Staniey Kerchel, Terry MacGovern and other great fighters of the past, to realize how they gained great fame and glory within the fifty opponents into a cocked hat, that made him the most famous champion of modern times.

It was Sullivan's wonderful tour of the United States, lasting nine months in 1885, in which he knocked out some fifty opponents into a cocked hat, that made him the most famous champion of modern times.

It was Bob Fitzsimmons' knockouts of Jack Denpsey, Peter Maher, Jim Fall, Dan Creedon, Jim Corpett, Gus Ruhlin, Tom Sharkey and others that established him as one of the marvels of puglism.

It was Jim Jeffries' putting away for the count, of Pitzsimmons, Ruhlin.

Brien and many other noted antagonists.

Most of us can recall how Terrible Terry McGovern banged a host of topnotchers into dresmland, such game ringsters as George Dixon, Eddle Santtry, Oscar Gardener, Frank Erne, George Munroe, and others.

We cannot at present review the Srand records of the many knockout fighters of the past, but they were certainly a marvelous fleet of battlers.

decisions; cleen, decisive results. For what is any contest without a verdict? In our opinion, they are simply a farce or no contest, whatsoever. For the love of the sport, let us have decisions with decisive fights.

In the heavyweight division it has been some time since a fellow half as popular as Big Bill Brennan has come to the front. This heavyweight, a clean cut Irishman, is managed by Leo P. Flynn of New York and today stands as the most popular big fellow in the game, not barring Champion Jess Willard. He is popular because he is a fighter and a knockout artist. Brennan doesn't feel with any of his opponents, but goes for them at the tap of the gong and in most cases makes short and clean work of them. He is foxy and steps around with the spryness of a lightweight. Brennan knows many tricks of the boxing game and while he has only been in the sport a comparatively short time, he has acquainfed himself with the fine points. There isn't a club in the country where Brennan has appeared but what the manager is anxious for the big fellow's ability.

Brennan carries a sharp, quick punch. It is figured by the boxing experts who have closely watched Brennan in the ring, that he hits hard er than Champion Willard and knows more about the game than Willard. Brennan's right hook is a valuable asset and this hook he works to a scood advantage in all of his battles. The tougher the opponent, it seems, the quicker Brennan stone him and out of the last if battles, Brennan has knocked out thirteen heavyweights.
